Join a customer-obsessed technology business at the heart of Australia's largest retailer

Opportunity to work across the latest technology and methodology

Surry Hills (Sydney) based with flexible working arrangements

WooliesX

As a business inside one of Australia's largest retailers, WooliesX aims to bring the best of Woolworths Group to our customers.

We're an innovation business that brings together the brightest minds in e-commerce, technology, media, and data to transform how people live and shop. With an industry-leading technology team backed by analytics, we're resourceful and willing to experiment. Our agile teams are empowered to innovate and deliver an excellent experience for our customers - whether they shop in-store or online.

What you'll do

This role is for an experienced Business Analyst with a technical background who is well-versed with the latest technology and integration patterns such as APIs, microservices, data models. This is a fast-paced environment that demands a strong "ownership mentality" and a sense of initiative, you will require these, but also have great facilitation skills, be process-driven, and be enthusiastic to assist in optimising the team's way of working and delivering life-cycle.

Collaborating with key stakeholders and teams to find the right solutions to solve the most valuable and interesting problems

Translating requirements into high-quality user stories, including acceptance criteria, ensuring the stories can be tested both functionally and non-functionally and align to the product strategy

Working with the product manager and delivery lead to prioritise the backlog based on business value, technical dependencies, and other factors.

Being able to formulate user stories for integration-based features with sufficient technical details

Supporting the squad members in project activities when necessary, demonstrating flexibility to jump roles to serve the team

What you'll bring

Coming from a digital background, you will demonstrate business acumen, excellent communication and technical know-how that will help drive success. You're as comfortable facilitating sessions with stakeholders as you are with breaking down bugs and getting into the technical nitty-gritty with the team. You can narrow in on the data and the detail and widen to see the bigger picture. Most importantly, you should have a strategy and skills to take an idea from inception to delivery.

Demonstrated experience as a business analyst in delivering complex initiatives in high-performing teams in an agile development environment

Demonstrated analysis experience delivering innovative initiatives

Strong analytical and problem-solving skills

Data-driven but able to make judgement calls when necessary

Experience in Jira/Confluence for managing boards and project documentation

Strong understanding of microservices architecture and principles

Familiarity with RESTful APIs, GraphQL, or other web service technologies.

Understanding of mobile app development frameworks and platforms.

What's in it for you

We embrace diversity of thought and love to take on challenges with a pragmatic and innovative approach. Our culture thrives on mutual respect, care, curiosity, openness, and a proactive attitude. We continually seek ways to pair, collaborate, support, and learn from each other as a team!

Endless possibilities with Woolworths Group

We're a proud part of the Woolworths Group – 200,000+ bright minds, passionate hearts and unique perspectives working together connected by a shared Purpose – ‘to create better experiences together for a better tomorrow.’

Here you'll be supported and empowered to explore new ideas, make brave commitments and innovate better ways to meet the food and everyday needs of more than 24 million customers every week. Backed by a culture of genuine care, a flexible approach to work and the support to grow your career and make a meaningful impact, the possibilities for what we can achieve together are endless.

Everyone belongs at Woolworths Group

Diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging are key to realising our purpose of better together for a better tomorrow. We recognise the value our team's diversity brings to our business, customers, and communities and that teams with diverse experiences and backgrounds enrich our group and are better able to innovate and solve problems. As one of the largest employers in Australia and New Zealand, we aim to create a truly inclusive workplace where everyone feels that they belong, can be their best selves, and reach their full potential.

We encourage all candidates to apply; please let us know in your application if we can support you with any adjustments in the hiring process.
