This is a Recruitment Pool for Fixed Term Full Time and Fixed Term Part Time appointments until 30 June 2025 with the possibility of extension(s). Do you want to be a part of a team that promotes and improves the health of its people and community? North Metropolitan Health Service aspires to be a trusted and valued leader in health services for the Western Australian community, so that we deliver world-class, innovative and comprehensive health care to Western Australia. Are you looking for an organisation that listens to what you have to say, supports flexible working arrangements, health and wellbeing and is focused on engagement and culture? Then look no further. There is an opportunity to fill Clinical Lead (Senior Project Manager) positions within the North Metropolitan Health Service (NMHS) Major Infrastructure Projects division for the New Women and Babies Hospital Project (NWBHP). About this role These positions will support the Senior Project Directors and Project Directors, through providing clinical expertise, leadership, and direction in the planning and design of clinical services for the NWBHP. The focus of the Clinical Lead is to initiate, develop, coordinate and report on the implementation of the service planning and shared services modelling associated with the NWBHP. The position will be required to initiate, build and maintain relationships with stakeholders across multiple government agencies, non-government agencies and community members to facilitate successful project planning and delivery. The position is required to work with and support the Senior Project Director(s), Project Director(s), and the Executive Sponsor, to effectively achieve the required service outcomes. This role reports to the NMHS Executive Director, Commissioning & Redevelopment. About the Project The $1.8 billion New Women and Babies Hospital Project (NWBHP) is one of the most significant investments for Western Australia and includes: a new Women and Babies Hospital located at the Fiona Stanley Hospital precinct in Murdoch a Family Birth Centre and the expansion of obstetrics, gynaecology and neonatology services, birthing suites and theatres at Osborne Park Hospital the expansion of neonatology services at Perth Children's Hospital. This landmark project will not only provide world-class facilities across three sites and replace the century-old King Edward Memorial Hospital, but it will also deliver greater choice for women, families and the community of Western Australia. With a focus on harnessing new technologies and leveraging digital health opportunities, the project will create exciting opportunities and synergies for research and partnerships with universities and health institutes.

What we are looking for We are seeking suitably qualified clinical leads who are interested in participating in the NWBHP through the provision of clinical expertise, leadership and direction during the planning and design of clinical services. Ideally, this opportunity is offered to qualified and experienced professionals from any specialty. You will be an innovative team player whose actions, interactions and partnerships achieve high-quality outcomes. We are seeking individuals whose personal values align with the NMHS Values and desire to make a real difference to our community. While your qualifications and experience tell us part of your story, your values and attitude speak louder still. At NMHS, we aim to ensure our behaviours reflect our core values: Care, Respect, Innovation, Teamwork and Integrity. During the selection process you will be assessed on your ability to fulfil the responsibilities of this position while upholding our values. Want to know more about this role? We encourage you to contact Joel Gurr, Executive Director, Commissioning and Redevelopment on +61 419 978 759. Ready to join our team?
