DigiRen is a specialised Australian cloud consulting company. We are seeking a motivated and experienced Enterprise Cloud Platform Architect to join our team in Canberra. As a trusted advisor to large commercial and public sector organisations, DigiRen focuses on enabling our customers to maximize value from their cloud programs. We have a deep understanding of hyperscale cloud technologies and leverage proven methodologies to help our customers build new organizational capabilities, implement effective cloud operating models, and align their cloud programs with strategic outcomes. Our collaborative and supportive working environment, coupled with our commitment to employee development and well-being, makes DigiRen an inclusive and rewarding place to work. The Role Enterprise Cloud Platform Architects play a key role in building the business management function for Cloud. They act as a bridge between portfolio management, product management and technical delivery functions, and typically own the high-level technical planning for the overall Cloud platform. DigiRen focuses on helping customers become self-sufficient. Our architects not only perform delivery work but can guide the customer in building their internal capability by establishing strong relationships at the executive level. They are comfortable leading a room of senior technical stakeholders to design and deliver innovative, high-value Cloud-based solutions, shape client Cloud transformation strategies, roadmaps and business cases, and help clients adopt Cloud at scale. You will join an inclusive and welcoming team of Cloud leaders who are among the best in the business. This role is highly remunerated based on your ability to drive customer outcomes through the adoption of hyperscale Cloud and develop and deliver profitable consulting engagements of the highest quality. We are looking for: Experienced, certified, technical leaders able to translate business outcomes into clear direction and architecture for enterprise customers Passionate advocates of Cloud technologies looking to further their experience on significant enterprise transformation projects Independent operators with consulting experience who thrive in a highly flexible work environment and who manage themselves to the highest standards Responsibilities As an Enterprise Cloud Architect at DigiRen, you will: Act as the technical lead within the customer's Cloud business management function Build a roadmap of platform features and functions in response to consumer needs, governance requirements and other demand signals Own key high-level Cloud platform architecture assets Be able to define 'done' for customer platform engineering teams Support customers to define, build and manage their internal Cloud architecture capabilities A 'Professional' level architecture certification with Amazon Web Services (AWS) or ability to obtain one within 90 days 10+ years of experience as a technical specialist in customer-facing roles 2+ years in a senior hyperscale architect role at an Australian enterprise or service provider Experience in a senior architect role on at least one significant production enterprise application build or migration that included the use of hyperscale services Ownership of the creation of platform-level hyperscale architecture constructs, such as network or security architectures, for an Australian enterprise Current NV1 or NV2 Security Clearance DigiRen is an equal opportunity employer. We believe passionately that employing a diverse workforce is central to our success. We provide highly competitive remuneration and a range of additional benefits.
