The Position

Ipswich Hospital are seeking to engage PHO/Registrars in the Emergency Department commencing 05.02.2024.

In the position of Principal House Officer/Registrar you will be expected to participate in the provision of high-level emergency clinical services within Ipswich Hospital and to ensure that safe, high quality, patient centred care is provided to all within West Moreton Health. In the role of Principal House Officer/Registrar you will be supported and encouraged to expand your education and training in emergency medicine and become an important member of a dynamic and passionate emergency medicine team.

The Emergency Department treats 200+ patients per day allowing staff to obtain experience across a broad range of cases. The key responsibilities of the role are:

- Provide emergency medical services under the supervision of seniomedical staff.
- Be encouraged to develop management plans and perform medical and surgical treatment and investigations under supervision of senior medical staff.
- Participate in the resuscitation of adult and paediatric patients as an important member of the acute resuscitation team.
- Participate in the supervision and teaching of junior medical staff.
- Involvement in protected Principal House Officer/Registrar teaching to further your education and training in the discipline of emergency medicine.
- Non-clinical time to further individual study, participate in the education of junior medical staff and allow participation in department audits and quality improvement projects.

- Actively contribute to developing and maintaining a culture which values health and safety and where staff are vigilant to risks of harm to their coworkers, clients, or visitors.
- Opportunity to learn, improve and become credentialed in ultrasonography within the emergency department.
