Company: Deloitte

Location: Adelaide

Category: computer-and-mathematical

Flexible work arrangements - work in a way that suits you best.

Rewards platform - your hard work won't go unnoticed at Deloitte.

Training and development - at Deloitte we believe in investing in our best assets, the people! You will have access to world class training and funding towards industry and other professional certifications.

If you're passionate about helping organisations with understanding cyber threats and transforming how cyber security is managed – this is the role for you!

What will you get to do?

Cyber security threats are constantly evolving, and the security solution landscape is becoming more complex. That's why our work is more meaningful (and exciting) than ever. Always one step ahead, we support clients with being secure, vigilant, and resilient against cyber related threats through end-to-end advisory, assurance, implementation, and managed services. We're a team of strategists, architects, engineers, and leaders that help clients understand and address security risks to build smarter, faster, and more connected futures.

You will be responsible for leading the delivery of a wide range of cyber security advisory, testing and transformation projects to assist organisations with uplifting security capabilities, such as governance, risk & compliance, vulnerability management, security monitoring and incident response. You will work with small specialist teams (locally and nationally) to support a wide range of leading organisations with a diverse range of cyber security projects.

About the team

In Adelaide our Cyber and Digital Risk team has over 25 people, which is part of a national practice of over 550 people. Our Adelaide team includes a diverse range of capabilities including cyber strategy and governance, infrastructure security, assurance and detect & respond.

Our Adelaide team works with a wide variety of medium size organisations across energy and resources, public sector and financial services.

We are looking for an additional Senior Analyst to join our growing team within Cyber Strategy & Digital Transformation, with a focus on strategy, governance, risk and compliance advisory services and enabling the delivery of cyber transformation programs. Not only will this provide significant opportunities to work with a wide variety of leading organisations, but it will also provide excellent learning opportunities that will accelerate your career in cyber security. The role will provide significant technical and professional skills training.

Enough about us, let's talk about you.

You will bring a diverse background in cyber security, having worked alone or in teams. You will bring experience managing risk across various cyber and technology risk domains, matched with strong communication and interpersonal skills, which will enable you to engage at different levels of client organisations in relation to the cyber agenda.

You are a person who can demonstrate some or more of the following:

Understanding and application of cyber security industry frameworks and technical standards (eg ISO 27001, NIST, APRA CPS234, SA CSF, AESCSF, ISA62443)

Broad awareness of security capabilities, controls and solutions (including awareness of cloud environments and security technologies)

Understanding of operational technology concepts desirable, but not required.

Ability to work in a fast-paced environment.

Enthusiasm for self-development around technical skills and certifications

Ability to work in small teams.

Strong interpersonal skills and communication skills, to engage with technical and business stakeholders.

(Desirable) Relevant certifications / qualifications such as an information security related degree, Security+, ISO 27001 Lead Auditor/Implementer, CRISC, CISA etc
