Company: Atlassian

Location: Perth

Category: other-general

Atlassians can choose where they work – whether in an office, from home, or a combination of the two. That way, Atlassians have more control over supporting their family, personal goals, and other priorities. We can hire people in any country where we have a legal entity.

Interviews and onboarding are conducted virtually, a part of being a distributed-first company. The Automations Platform powers the next generation of automations across the entire set of Atlassian Cloud products. The platform is incredibly strategic and is experiencing incredible growth. From a growth perspective there are many vectors: people, adoption and scale.

Our biggest customers now depend on Automations capability and we are hard at work building out new capabilities and scaling the platform to millions of rule executions.

The platform also provides leverage for fast innovation and the creation of new products.

We want automations to be a key part of all new product experience and underpin customer interactions across the board. As a Senior Product Manager - Automation, you will drive our strategic priorities by working directly with your team of engineering, design, and other product leaders across Atlassian.

We are able to consider candidates who are based in Australia or New Zealand for this role. Use your Platform and Product expertise to independently deep dive into complex and ambiguous topics, uncover opportunities, and solve impactful problems. You'll partner closely with enterprise customers to understand and address their feedback, weave market and customer needs into tight narratives, and work across Atlassian to execute successfully. Influence, manage and work across the organisation - from customers, to
