About the Business: Sporting the dual crown of Australia's oldest dairy and Australia's most innovative dairy, Brownes Dairy has an exciting opportunity that would be ideally suited to someone with an Environmental Science background. Community is at the heart of what we do as we collect over 140 million litres of milk each year from more than 50 dairy farming families located in WA's pristine Southwest region. All our Brownes Dairy products are made in WA. We are fiercely protective of our environment, pride ourselves on being a leader in sustainability and our free school tours program sees thousands of school children learn about the benefits of dairy too. With a diverse portfolio of award-winning fresh dairy products including milk, cream, sour cream, yoghurt, flavoured milk, cold brew drinks, cheese, juice and desserts, our products are a household name in WA and are sold nationally and internationally as well. WA is our heartland.

About the Role: Are you someone who has the drive to help us deliver on our ESG commitments? We are offering a unique role with a multi-award winning global FMCG business, based right here in WA. The position plays an important role in ensuring the company is operating sustainably, responsibly and in a way that meets the expectations of our stakeholders. Responsible for helping to deliver Brownes' environmental, social and governance goals, the Sustainability Officer will act as the primary point of contact for environmental and governance data related queries at Brownes. Staying up to date with emerging trends and innovation in the ESG reporting space, the ability to think strategically, a keen eye for data integrity, along with a strong sense of environmental stewardship and a passion for sustainability is paramount for this role.
