You're in the right place. If you're looking for a fresh challenge, why choose Aurecon? It comes down to one, crucial question. What kind of world do you want to create for the next generation? Truth is, the decisions being made right now will determine the future of everything – from the local community to the entire planet. One of those decisions is: who do you decide to work for?

How will your ideas contribute to shaping what's next?

The Workplace Technology Manager is a key leadership role at Aurecon, responsible for overseeing IT end-user services, leading a regional technical support team, and building strong relationships with stakeholders. They play a critical role in advancing IT initiatives, aligning team efforts with business goals, and driving technology adoption and strategy execution.

Here are the key things you will do to 'bring ideas to life'.

Strategically lead a team of Workplace Technology professionals, fostering a culture of support, guidance, and continuous improvement.

Lead the regional IT support team to provide exceptional user experience through excellent service delivery.

Guarantee team alignment with IT strategy and business priorities.

Manage regional IT support operations and ensure adherence to industry best practices.

Promote technology adoption through innovative education and communication strategies.

Spearhead key IT projects and initiatives within the region.

IT budgeting and financial planning, ensuring alignment with business objectives.

How will your future be shaped by us?

Joining Aurecon means you'll be at the award-winning edge of innovation and sustainability.

AFR ranked us Top 5 among sustainability leaders and Top 3 of all innovative companies in professional services. One Consult awarded us an innovative design award. Plus, we were Consult Australia's large firm of the year.

You really can bring your whole self to work and be confident your voice will be heard. We don't just claim we're inclusive and innovative, as proven by the independent awards and accreditations we've gained. We've been recognised for our innovation culture, gender equality and our LGBTI+ inclusion. Plus, we have a robust Reconciliation Action Plan – our fourth edition since 2014.

On a personal level you'll have access to flexible work hours, remote work, working holidays, part-time and job share options. You'll continue to grow, thanks to learning and development opportunities that further your eminence, leadership, and professional accreditations. Outside of work, you'll be further supported with competitive paid parental leave, cultural public holiday swaps, plus wellbeing support programmes.

What are we looking for from you?

You'll have a genuine passion for re-imagining problems and continuous learning to help shape the future.

We value that each of our team members brings something different to Aurecon. We look for people who have had a broad range of experiences throughout their career and can demonstrate how they have worked as part of a team to bring ideas to life.

As well as experience in a similar role, you will need:

Demonstrated leadership experience in an operational technology environment.

Strong background in business partnership, budgeting, and end-user support.

Proven track record in managing regional technical support teams.

Exceptional leadership and people management skills.

Outstanding communication and stakeholder management abilities.

Strategic thinking, adaptability, and technical acumen.

Ability to drive technology adoption and align IT strategies with business goals.

Who is Aurecon?

Aurecon's strength has always been our people. It's our people who build our shared purpose and bring ideas to life. It's our people who imagine and co-create with our clients a better future for people and the planet. Of course, you'll probably know lots of our award-winning projects. The new Allianz Stadium in Sydney? That was us. Tāmaki Regeneration in Auckland? That was us too. And the Tseung Kwan O Interchange in Hong Kong? You guessed it, us. So, when you join us, you'll be joining a community working together to tackle some of the world's most complex challenges.

Ready to bring ideas to life?

Then please apply. Remember, it's you and how you bring ideas to life which are important. Your background, unique needs and individuality will be valued.
